1 Purpose and scope

This internal record summarizes YFIT AI's calendar-quarter activity for the five quarters ending June 30, 2025 through June 30, 2026. It combines imported CIBC Mastercard business expenses with a historical Stripe charge backfill. All amounts are in Canadian dollars.

Important: This document is a draft internal reconciliation, not a GST return, financial statement, or tax filing. A CPA or tax professional should review business purpose, GST eligibility, foreign-vendor treatment, exchange-rate treatment, and final remittance positions before use for filing.

Total	165.25	19.00	140.62	11,743.21	559.33	64

Net income is gross Stripe charges less refunds and estimated Stripe processing fees. GST collected is 0.00 in each quarter because the current Stripe sync does not import Stripe Tax amounts. The ITC column is provisional.

1.2 GST and ITC position

Measure	Five-quarter amount
GST collected through current Stripe records	0.00
Provisional CIBC input tax credits	559.33
Provisional net GST position	(559.33)

The provisional net GST position is not a confirmed refund or filing result. The importer estimates a 5% ITC for records marked GST-eligible, and 64 imported transactions still need business-purpose and tax review.

3 Assumptions and next review

Item	Treatment in this record
CIBC expenses	Imported transaction amounts are treated as CAD business expenses; card payments are excluded.
ITCs	The current importer estimates 5% GST on records marked GST-eligible. Confirm vendor invoices and exclude non-Canadian or non-business amounts before filing.
Stripe charges	Historical charge records were backfilled for April 2025–June 2026. Customer data is not included in this document.
Stripe fees	Fees use the current system estimate, not individual Stripe balance transaction fees.

Item	Treatment in this record
Foreign exchange	March 2026 Stripe records use the sync's stored 1.393000 USD/CAD rate. Confirm the accepted accounting FX methodology before filing.

The next operational step is to review the 64 CIBC transactions still marked unreviewed in the accounting dashboard. Once categories and GST eligibility are confirmed, regenerate this record before using it for a filing or a CPA workpaper.
